Kuldip Nayar

(1923-2018)

A respected diplomat, parliamentarian and newspaper editor, Kuldip Nayar was born on 14th August 1923 at Sialkot in undivided Punjab (now in Pakistan). Educated at Lahore and the Medill School of Journalism, Northwestern University, US. Kuldip Nayar took to journalism early in life and excelled as a political commentator, columnist, author and human rights activist.

His career as a journalist spans over six decades, focusing extensively on national and international affairs, his writings often sprinkled with insightful personal anecdotes.

Kuldip Nayar served as the editor of prominent national newspapers for more than 20 years. He was editor of United News of India (1964-1967), Statesman (1967-1975) and Express News Service (1975-1981).

He served as Government Information Officer to Govind Ballabh Pant and Lal Bahadur Shastri. He was arrested during the Emergency years (1975-77) for voicing his dissent at the suppression of press.

Kuldip Nayar served as the High commissioner of India to the United Kingdom (March 1990-November 1990) and was a member of India's delegation to the United Nations in 1996.

He was a nominated member of the Rajya Sabha (1997-2002).

Kuldip Nayar was honoured with the Astor Award for Press Freedom (2003) and Shaheed Neoga Memorial Award (2007) for his outstanding contribution to the field of journalism.

Kuldip Nayar contributed to the Deccan Herald, Daily Star, Sunday Guardian, News, Statesman, Express Tribune, (Pakistan) and Dawn, (Pakistan).

A prolific writer and human rights activist, Kuldip Nayar authored many books on national and international affairs. His publications include: Beyond the Lines: An Autobiography; Distant Neighbours: A Tale of the Subcontinent; India after Nehru; Wall at Wagah, India-Pakistan Relationship; The Judgment: Inside story of the Emergency in India; The Martyr: Bhagat Singh Experiments in Revolution; India House and On Leaders and Icons from Jinnah to Modi (released posthumously).
